LOT 61 - Sobbat Glow-Vibe “Monkey Dance” – Richie Kotzen Signature Model – Used on Something to Say Album

Description

Sobbat Glow-Vibe “Monkey Dance” – Richie Kotzen Signature Model – Used on Something to Say Album

This is Richie Kotzen’s personal Sobbat Glow-Vibe “Monkey Dance” modulation pedal — a custom-built, artist-labeled unit made specifically for Richie by Sobbat in the late '90s.

This is the only known Glow-Vibe with Richie Kotzen’s name printed directly on the unit.

It was used by Richie during the recording of his 1997 album “Something To Say”, and has lived in his personal pedal vault ever since. This is not just rare — this is 1-of-1 gear history.

What It Does:

- Delivers a Roto-Vibe style modulation effect — think deep phase swirl meets warm chorus
 - Used by Richie for rich textures and expressive lead tones
 - Analog warmth and Japanese boutique build quality
 - Stomp switch, speed knob, and depth knob for intuitive control

Pedal Highlights:

- Official Sobbat Glow-Vibe
 - Custom-printed “Richie Kotzen” artist label on the face
 - Late-'90s Japanese boutique build — no longer in production
 - Used on Richie’s Something to Say album sessions

Ownership:

This unit was custom-made for Richie by Sobbat, used in his studio rig, and now released by Richie himself for this auction — an incredibly rare opportunity to own a true piece of Kotzen’s tone chain.
