Description

Richie Kotzen's Personal Red Box MK II – Hughes & Kettner Cabinetulator G

Owned and used by Richie since the 1990s – direct from his studio arsenal

This Hughes & Kettner Red Box MK II Cabinetulator G is a vintage signal-splitting beast used by Richie Kotzen for pulling direct lines from his amps during studio and stage sessions. If you know, you know—this little red box is legendary for giving guitarists a mic'd cab sound straight to the board without the bleed, phase issues, or hassle.

Richie's unit is battle-worn and legit. Dings, scratches, faded edges—it's been through years of sessions and still does what it's built to do: deliver tone with punch and clarity.

Features:

- Red Box MK II by Hughes & Kettner – Made in Germany
- Simulated Speaker Out via XLR
- Line In, Speaker In, and Through connections

- Symmetrical Line Out for pro-level direct signal
- No power supply required

Provenance:

Used by Richie Kotzen personally since the 1990s—this unit came straight from his private stash.
